LHFC Membership Category Descriptions

LHFC membership consists of "Complimentary" health care providers such as herbalists, naturopaths, homeopaths, colon hydro-therapists, acupuncturists, massage therapists, chiropractors, as well as other "conventional" providers, such as physicians, nurses, and social workers. Other members include consumers of herbal and nutritional supplements, health food stores, conventional and complimentary health (CCH) publishers, marketers and others devoted to CCH access are also encouraged to join us in our mission.

Consumer – Those who utilize conventional and complimentary health approaches, wish to learn more about its benefits, and/or believe and support the consumer's right to choose complimentary health modes as part of their total health care regime. Included are patrons of health food stores; clients of health practitioners not interested in voting privileges, but interested in information and supporting organizational efforts.

Student – Full or part-time students at College or Professional Training courses, interested in participating in LHFC activities and serving on committees. Students will have voting privileges.

Business – Businesses that share the same interests as the LHFC and wish to be actively involved in advocacy and CCH promotional activities. These members have voting and office holding privileges. Can include any business not in the health arena, but concerned about our health choice freedom.

Professional – Reserved for health care practitioners. All CCH therapists who consider themselves practitioners are encouraged to join at this level. This includes practitioners of Mind-Body Medicine such as hypnosis, Complimentary Medicine Systems such as naturopathy, colon hydrotherapy, Lifestyle Disease Prevention, Biologically-Based Therapies such as herbalism, Manipulative Body-Based Systems, such as chiropractic massage, Bio-field Therapies, and Bio-electromagnetic. Membership is also open to allopathic practitioners who support a consumer's right to choose complimentary medicine, incorporate it in their practice, refer clients to CCH practitioners and/or wish to learn more about the benefits of complimentary medicine. This category is also appropriate for marketers, lecturers, authors, and publishers specializing in promoting CCH practitioners and therapies, professional sales persons specializing in natural health products, and other professionals dedicated to natural health and/or freedom of access to these services and products. Professionals have voting and office holding privileges.

Corporate – is usually utilized by, but not limited to health-related businesses such as health clinics, CCH education centers or schools, health food stores, and manufacturers and distributors of natural health care products. Corporate member representatives and voting privileges are limited by membership sponsor level.
